COMMISSION FINISHES WORK. Report of Maguire Investigation Will Soon Be Submitted.

Savannah, Ga., August 30.-(Special.)-The fire commission finished its investigation of the charges against Chief John E. Magure tonight, and will render its decision next Monday. The evidence, which is voluminous, has been taken down stenographically and is in the hands of the commissioners. There has been testimony both proving and disproving all the charges of intoxication and inefficiency.

The commissioners' decision will be awaited with interest from the fact that a committee of council has directed his discharge within a reasonable time. Should the commission acquit him and refuse to discharge him, a lively contest will be the result and perhaps impeachment proceedings against that body.

The case is one in which every fire insurance company in the United States is taking an interest, the prosecution having been begun by a committee of the Southeastern Tariff Association.

PRINTERS ON ANOTHER STRIKE. Franklin Employees Have a Propen sity for Walking Out.

For the second time within two months there was a general walkout at the Frank-lin Printing and Publishing Company yes-terday morning. It seems that about June 1st the men struck because of the fact that the officers of the company notified them of a general reduction which was to have taken place the next day. This strike was compromised, however, the men returning to work at a reduction of $2.50 a week, but working only eight hours a day instead of ten. Yesterday the men were notified that they must work ten hours without an increase of wages and they decided to strike. It appears at present to be a war to the finish, the employees affirming that they will not return to work, and the exployers declaring that they do not care, as plenty of men are out of work and would be willing to receive $12.50 a week for ten hours' work a day.

Pennsylvania's State Democratic Committee Adopts a Hot Resolution.

Interrupted Speakers.

PROPOSITION WAS OPPOSED BY SOME If the Action Stands There Will Be Vacancy on the National Democratic Committee.

Reading, Pa., August 30.-By a vote of 53 to 26 the state democratic committee tonight adopted a resolution declaring vacant the seat of William F. Harrity, of Philadelphia, in the national democratic com-

The committee met in the rooms of the Americus Club, by direction of the executive committee, to consider the question of the vacancy in the national committee.

The proceedings were exciting from start to finish and at one stage a policeman was called upon by State Chairman Garman to eject Timothy O'Leary, of Pittsburg, for interrupting the speakers.

O'Leary is not a member of the committee. State Chairman Garman presided except for a short time, when he surrendered the chair to W. R. Brainton, of Lancaster, to speak upon the resolution.

Immediately after the meeting was called to order John B. Keens, of Westmoreland, offered a resolution to the effect that a vacancy had been created and now existed in the membership of the national democratic committee by reason of the voluntary withdrawal from politics and from participation in the deliberations of the committee of the late incumbent, William F. Harrity, and that Mr. Harrity, not being in accord with the principles of the democratic party, James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, who so loyally supported William J. Bryan, be and is hereby selected to fill the vacancy.

Magistrate Charles P. Donnelly, of Philadelphia, said the committee would make mistake if it adopted this on the eve of the great battle for governor. It was the duty of the organization, he said, to bring about a condition of affairs that means aggressiveness and harmony in the party and the democracy cannot go before the populace with the expectation of winning victories with a divided party organization. Mr. Donnelly denied the right of the state committee to create a vacancy in the national committee. It was a question for the latter body

More heated argument followed, with one member suggesting the reference of the question to W. J. Bryan. The vote then followed, with the result already stated.

The action of the state committee will andoubtedly result in an exciting time at tomorrow's convention.

the suicide, and those at the Southern hotel, where the man was stopping, are of the opinion that the dose was taken inwittingly, and not with suicidal intent. Saturday night Clarke fell in with several of the men around the stables and took his first drink of whisky. His friends were jolly fellows who were out for a good time and before he was aware of it he was in a drunken stupor.

Mr. McNamara, the proprietor of the hotel, took charge of Clarke as soon as he saw his condition and managed to get him sober on yesterday. The effects of the liquor on his system were terrible, and during all yesterday he was trembling

He came into the hotel about 1 o'clock and did not go to dinner. He requested the waiter to bring him a pitcher of milk and ice. This was carried to him and he locked himself in his room.

About 4 o'clock the mother of Charke, who was passing through Adanta en reute to Tallulah Falls, with her son and daughter, called at the hotel. A bell boy went to her son's room and knocked, but there was no response. He returned and told the proprietor of it, and together they returned to the room. The effor's of both were unable to arouse the man on the inside. A step ladder was prought, and looking over the transom, Mr. McNamara saw Clarke in horrible convulsions.

The door was broken down and they rushed into the room. The motter, realiz ing in a second that he was going to die, fell helpless to the floor. A physician was quickly summoned. Several men in the hotel assisted the proprietor in everything possible to make life return. When they entered the room the eyes were set in the head. Their exertions soon brought the man to a conscious state. "Let me rest a few minutes," was the last words he ever cpoke. The men did not cease their efforts to bring him through, but in two minutes after he spoke they were trying to make breathe a lifeless body. He died before the physician arrived.

The mother was standing by watching the efforts of the men and saw the last gasp of her devoted and eldest boy. She returned to her boarding house on Hous-ton street. The brother and sister of the dead man, who went on through to Tallulah, were telegraphed for and arrived last night

J. W. Clarke was the largest stock dealer in Bartow, Fla., and had made frequent trips to Atlanta, where he purchased all of his stock. He stopped at the Southand was known as the man who never ouched a drop. How he was influenced Saturday night, after resisting for so many years, was hard to understand. When the mother ar-

The cause of the young man's attempt at suicide is not known. Mr. Linam stated

It lasted eight minutes and was followed by a tidal wave which washed up water flowing into the sea, causing great destruction. Up to August 10th it was known in Yokohama that over 5,000 houses had been inundated or washed away.

Between two and three hundred people were known to have been drowned or seriously injured. It was reported from Hosoku that coal mines there were flooded by an overflowing river, drowning over 100 miners. The earthquake shocks on the morning of August 5th varied from four to sixteen in number in various places, the movement being from east to west. No less than an hour afterwards the tidal wave was felt in the towns along the coast. Rains had fallen almost incessantly and rivers were all running very high. The tidal wave raised them in so many minutes from twelve to twenty feet higher COTTON MILLS RESUME WORK New England Factories Start Up and vate Secretary in Trouble. Washington, August 30.-Herman W. Van Senden, private secretary to Secretary Car-lisle in the last administration, and Dennis J. Canty, formerly a clerk to the interstat commerce commission, were arrested today on warrants charging them with embezzle-ment of $4.887 from Wilkins & Co., a brokerage firm. They were charged also with maintaining a gambling table.

Van Senden and Canty went into the brokerage business this spring, and the arrest follows a law suit begun by Wilkins & Co. against them to recover moneys alleged to be due as the result of certain deals octween the firms.

Van Senden, it is understood, was a si-lent partner in the firm, which was styled Canty & Co. His friends say he had no Canty & Co. His friends say he had no part in managing the business of the firm, and was absent most of the time in Kentucky, where he was state agent of an insurance company. Canty suspended several weeks ago, and Wilkins & Co. allege that Canty and Van Senden divided between them money forwarded here by their New York representatives to pay profits accruing to Wilkins & Co. on several stock transactions.

The session promises to be quite interesting, for thee are several matters that will come up for discussion in addition to the county finances. The fixing of the tax rate is something in which everybody is interested, and there will doubtless be large number of citizens present to hear the discussion about the rate. The fact that Fulton county is shy about $1,000,000 in taxable valuation will cause a material shortage in the revenue to be received from taxes, but this will not have as much

Montgomery, Ala., August 30.—(Special.)—
Several of the counties of the state are making preparations to hold county fairs this fall.

The custom used to prevail in ten or a dozen counties, but the state fair was more important and elaborate than the others, and in order not to stand in the way of is success, the several counties abandoned their county fairs and devoted their attentions to making creditable county exhibits at the state exhibitions.

The state fairs have proved unprofitable. The state fairs have proved unprofitable and unwieldy, however, and the disposition seems now to be to return to the old founty fairs. Dalias, Lauderdale, Butler and perhaps other counties are arranging fairs for October.

These county fairs are a source of great pleasure and profit to the farmers of a county. They are brought together socially and in friendly rivalry every year, and the exchange of methods and experiences is considered to be of great value to them.

Columbia, S. TRIED TO BRAIN HIS FAMILY

He Tells of Notable Atlanta Prisoners in the Asylum-Lockridge's Interesting Story.

S. J. Lockridge, of Gwinnett county, who attempted to brain two of his children during the latter part of last February, and who was sent to the asylum at Milledgeville on March 3d, was liberated a few days ago. He was in this city yesterday. "I gained forty pounds while I was in the asylum," he said, "and can only say that it is as rear like home down there as any place I ever was in. The physician and nurses are just as gentle and nice as it is persible for any one to be.

"There are at present 2,200 white pa-tients at the asylum and 840 negroes. Beween fifty and severty-five come in each day and the deaths average two every day. Of course some of the patients are kept confired in cells, but those who are partly rational have a good time. They go to church every Sunday and Thursday and have a big dance every Friday night "I do not know the details of the crime that I tried to commit, but they tell me that I attempted to kill two of my little children with an ax. I am glad that I was not allowed to do the deed for I should have never recovered from the effects of it when I regained my mind.

"The physicians who had me in charge say that I went crazy from a lawsuit in which I became engaged. I was tangled up with a crowd of lawyers up in county and I commenced thinking about what they said until it made me lose my mind. While down there I saw a patient by the name of Sam Bryant kill old man Adams. He met him in the hall and struck him on the head, and the old man never recovered from the blow. This was not the fault of the attendants, however, and the could not have prevented it.

Arkansas Desperadoes Open Fire Upon Men Who Invaded Their Isolated Place of Crime.

Little Rock, Ark., August 30.-Six men were probably massacred in the wilds of the mountains of Pope county yesterday. Two were killed outright, two were fatally wounded and left for dead, and two have mysteriously disappeared and are either dead or being held captive by bandits. The killed are:

CAPTAIN B. F. TAYLOR, of Searcy county, deputy United States marshal.

JOE DODSON, of Stone county, deputy

The fatally wounded are brothers, named Renfrow, of Searcy county. The names of the missing men are not known, but they are supposed to be deputy sheriffs from an adjoining county. The victims were all deputy United States marshals and deputy sheriffs, and the men who did the work are moonshiners of the boldest and most desperate class.

The scene of the crime was a gulch or ravine in the mountains of Pope county, at a lonely spot, thirty-five miles from Russellville, the nearest telegraph office, and ten miles from Witt Springs.

The region is wild and isolated. It has for years been the favorite rendezvous of counterfeiters and moonshiners and is a district in which no law-abiding citizen can

The officers for a long time have beer trying to break up the lawlessness in that vicinity and many battles between them and the desperadoes have occurred. Captain B. F. Taylor, the richest msn in Searcy county and a man of much preminence, determined to help the officers in putting down crime. He secured a commission as a deputy United States marshal and led the posse in the raid that resulted in his death. A few days ago a successful raid was made in the same lccality, in which a dozen moonshiners were captured and brought to Little Rock. One of them told the officers that at least fifty large distilleries were operating in the same neighborhood.

Taylor with his posse located a large noonshine outfit Saturday night and decided to make the raid Sunday. Proceeding slightly in advance of his men, Taylor was within thirty feet of the distillery when he was fired on from ambush and instantly killed. As Dodson ran up to Taylor ne was also shot dead. Rifles began to crack in all directions and a volley was fired into the officers. The Renfrow brothers fell mortally wounded and lay by the roadside until later in the day, when a traveler named Pack came by. All traces of the bandits had disappeared, as well as two of the deputy sheriffs. The latter have not since

Pack hurried to Russellville with the news and the coroner, together with a sheriff's posse, immediately started for the scene. No news has been received since they departed. Pack thinks the Renfrow brothers will be dead before the party reaches them. It was not known committed, but the officers believe the gang is composed of desperadoes led by Horace Bruce and John Church, two of the most dangerous characters in that locality. The United States authorities were today asked to offer a reward for the arrest of the gang, to which the state will contribute and a determined effort will be made to capture them. It is very probable the effort will lead to further bloodshed Captain Taylor was an ex-captain in the federal army. He had served two terms in the state legislature and was noted for his bravery. Marshal Cooper this afternoon received the following telegram from the attorney general:

Samples Will Be Sent Free to All Who Write for It. James P. Johnston, of Fort Wayne, Ind., after battling for years against the mental and physical suffering of lost manhood, has found the exact remedy that cures the trouble.

and physical suffering of lost manhood, has found the exact remedy that cures the trouble.

He is guarding the secret carefully, but is willing to send a sample of the medicine to all men who suffer with any form of sexual weakness resulting from youthful ignorance, premature loss of memory and strength, weak back, varicocle and emaciation. The remedy has a necularly grateful effect of warmth and seems to act directly, giving needed strength and development wherever needed. The memedy cured Mr. Johnston completely of all the ills and troubles that come from years of misuse of the naturally ordained functions and is said to be absolutely reliable in every case.

A request to Mr. James P. Johnston, box 1169. Fort Wayne, Ind., stating that you would like a sample of his remedy for men will be compiled with promptly and ne charge whatever will be asked by him. He is very much interested in spreading the news of this great remedy and he is careful to send the sample securely sealed in a perfectly plain package so that its recipient need have no fear of embarrassment or publicity.

ATKINSON TO PUSH CONVICT REFORM

Movement Now Fairly Started Will Not Be Permitted To Stop.

RINGING WORDS ARE SPOKEN

Governor Atkinson Has Undoubted Authority in the Matter.

WON'T WAIT FOR THE LEGISLATURE TO ACT

Cases and Will Not Delay Decisive Action.

The work of reform in the matter of the treatment of the misdemeanor convicts leased to private contractors has begun intelligently and will be pushed to a satisfactory conclusion. I am aware that all such leases are illegal, and it is not my intention to wait for the legislature to act. I am going to act myself. But it would defeat the ends of justice for me to tell at this time what methods I propose to pursue in order to correct the evils which we all know exist .- Governor Atkin-

In the foregoing statement, made by the governor yesterday morning as soon as he reached his office in the capitol, is found the answer to the question that has been in everybody's mouth ever since it became sary to wait for the 'egislature to meet in misdemeanor convict camps which Colonel port told of in his now famous report. ject further, because he thought he would damage his case by talking about it, but he said in plain English that he intended to go to the furthest limit of his authority in bringing about the reform which he had himself officially started when he first took it upon himself to appoint Colonel doubted that the governor would do this, for he has been a consistent and perpetual advocate of convict reform ever since he was first inaugurated as governor and in his campaign against brutality in private camps he has never for a momen wavered. So much has been said, however, regarding the necessity of awaiting the next session of the legislature, and so much faith has been pinned to the belief that the law of the state had to be amended in order that the misdemeanor convicts could obtain their rights, that the final decision of the governor on this point, was awaited with the utmost interest.

Will the Governor Lead? His positive declaration that he proposes to go on with the good work without waiting for the legislature will be good news to everybody. It does not mean that he will officially assume control of the convict system, but it does mean that he will join the many other interests now at work in the cause of reform, and take the lead in the fight which means so much for the poses to recommend wholesome laws for the government and control of all convicts to the next legislature, and that he will use all the power of his official position for good

It means, also, that so far as the misdemeanor convicts are concerned, the govaction. He has already stated time and time again that he believes the next legislature should place these minor criminals under the control of the state, and to provide state inspection and supervision for them, but he realizes, as well as all the other law-loving people of Georgia do, that the wholesale disobedience of the misdemeanor convict law which now dishonors the state should be checked with the prompt hand of absolute authority. He understands, as all other men do now, that it is not necessary for the legislature to abolish the private camps. He knows that a single action on his own part tomorrow can do all that by virtue of a law already created. Power Is Absolute.

It is needless to discuss the power of Governor Atkinson in this connection, bea private individual on whom the sunlight of a possible gubernatorial nomination has never even flickered, could go into the court of any county in which misdemeanor nvicts are now confined in private campa and by virtue of his power as a citizen turn those convicts loose. It is not, therefore, a question of authority. It is only a question of duty upon the part of the man whose special and particular province it is, by virtue of his oath of office, to enforce the law of the state which honors him by election to its highest official position.

In The Constitution last Sunday morning a case in point was cited which is of especial significance at this time, because nine-tenths of all the misdemeaner convicts now in confinement come under the same head. The case was that of a negro named Jim Miller, who was convicted before the Terrell county court of larceny, and given the alternative sentence of twelve months on the chaingang or the payment of a fine of $50. He did not pay his fine, and was sold by the sheriff to a private contractor for $72. A firm of shrewd negro attorneys brought habeaus corpus proceedings, and he was taken into court before Judge Shef-

What One Lawyer Did. He told stories of the brutalities of pri-vate camp life, and won the sympathy of all who heard him, but the stories of brutallty could only effect the law in the event that the law recognized the existence of private misdemeanor camps. His attorneys placed the sheriff of the county on the witbess stand, and the sheriff, under direct examination, admitted having received $72 from the private contractor for the sale of the negro's body. His attorneys then made the negro's body. His attorneys the negro's body. His attorneys the negro's body.

ECHO S PRING

A11174 -151013 -1510131 S.GRABFELDER & CO the prisoner's fine had been paid, the ven-geance of the county had been satisfied, and he should be set free. Judge Sheffield took this view of the matter and the negro was scharged.

The importance of this decision will be appreciated when it is known that of the 0 misdemeanor convicts employed in private camps in Georgia nine-tenths should be turned loose today, because their fines have been paid under similar circumstances!

There is no dispute as to the danger in this respect which confronts the state; neither is their any dispute as to the authority of the governor. There might be some excuse for delay if the law had not yet been interpreted with sufficient clearness to diforce absolutely and forever the legality of the employment of mistlemeanor convicts on public works from the illegality of their incarceration in private camps. That the private camp system has been fostered and as developed without profit to the taxpayers of the county which disposes of their misdemeanor convicts illegally has already been proven. That the only profit arising from the nefarious trade goes into the pockets of the petty officials of the same counties has likewise been proven.

Dividing the Spoils.

It has frequently happened that in the livision of the money obtained for the sale of these unfortunates legal questions have arisen, and in every instance the su preme court has decided that the illegality of such contracts forbids them giving se rious consideration to the issues 'nvolved A number of such cases could be cited, but one is sufficient. That one is this:

The solicitor of the county court of Emanroads and revenues of that county, requir ing them to apply to the payment of his insolvent costs money received by them from the hire of convicts tried and convicted in the county court. A mandamus absolute was granded and the commissioners excepted, thus carrying the case to the supreme court. The application for man-damus and the order of the judge granting the same were based upon the act of Octo-ber 16, 1891, "to authorize county author-ities to hire out misdemeanor convicts and to provide for the distribution of the money arising therefrom.

said convicts are delivered to any other county or municipal corporation, as now provided by law, said county authorities are hereby authorized to receive compensation for the labor of said convicts and the noney so received shall be first applied to the payment of the fees of the officers of court." The money to be applied in this manner, it will be observed, is to be derived from the hire of convicts "to any the fund in question was derived not from the hire of convicts to another county o to a municipal corporation, but from thei hire to a private person who, as an indi vidual, employed them in building bridges for the county at an agreed compensation.

The Law Is Clear. was contended that notwithstanding such hiring was unauthorized by law, yet when the county authorities received mone from that source, it became subject to dis tribution under the provision of the ac In answer the supreme court said:

"The obvious reply to this is that the act does not authorize the distribution of a fund derived from a source not contemplated by the law. The mere fact that the money came from the hire of convicts is of no more consequence, so far as any right to subject it to distribution under this act concerned, than if it came from a source wholly disconnected with the hire of con-victs. It follows that the court erred in granting the mandamus, and the judgment, is, therefore, reversed."

Colonel W. C. Glenn, of Atlanta, who represented the county authorities on their appeal, said yesterday: This decision means that the funds

"This decision means that the funds in question, while they could not legally be paid into the pockets of the court and county officers, could have been considered as paying the fines of all the convicts concerned and would have led to the immediate discharge of those convicts. I think The Constitution is doing a most valuable service for the state in insisting that this troublesome question be settled at once and Governor Atkinson is to be commended by all men for the manly way in which he is handling it. It is not a question of petty politics; it is one of broad statesmanship and personal fearlessness."

FOUR STARS RACE TONIGHT. Walthour, Baker, Repine and Chapman in This Contest. Bob Walthour, Con Baker, Bert Repine and John Chapman are the entries in the star four-cornered event tonight at the coliseum. This race was originally to have been between Walthour, Chapman and Baker, but Repine wanted to get in, and it was decided to make it four-cornered. All of the men are in fine fettle, but the opinion is that the winner will either be Walthour or Baker, and that the other two All of the men are in line fettle, but the opinion is that the winner will either be Walthour or Baker, and that the other two men are not in it for first place, but they may surprise everybody. When Baker was bere before he was riding much faster than Walthour and had no trouble beating him in every race that they went in, but since that time Walthour has improved wonderfully and is now considered by all who have seen them ride the better man. Baker has improved also and it will be a great race between them. Repine must not be considered out of it by any means, and it may be that he will beat either Baker or Walthour, but those who have kept an eye on them hardly think toat he can do it the way he is riding now. As to Chapman, no one knows what he can do, for he has been away so long that he may be better than any one knows, but he is considerably bunged up and that may keep him from doing his best.

The race will be run in three Leats and will be decided by points, first place counting for so much, second for so much and so on down to the last. At the end of the third heat the man having the most points will get first money.

In the professional handicap Kline and Elliott will be on the scratch together, and it will be as good as seeing a match race between them. It will certainly show which is the better man at this time. The general opinion is that Elliott ins become too fast for his old rival, and that a match between them would not be of any interest now, for it would be too one-sided. The race tonight will show whether Kline has any right to ask for a match or not, and if he can stay up with Elliott, a match may be arranged. Kline's Lackers are very anxious for a match and have been trying to get one for some time.

CAROLINA PRIMARY TO OCCUR TODAY

tion against McLaurin. A part of the plan of campaign was the determination to break him down physically, and this succeeded even better than its projectors intended. One day Irby would lead the attack, while Evans, making a short speech, virtually had a rest; the next day Evans made the attack, while Irby rested. Each day and every day McLaurin was forced to speak at length, defending himself from the barefaced misrepresentations of his enemies. One day it was his tariff votes, another it was some local matter or other on the one hand he was called a republican, on the other a populist. South Carolina is perhaps the only state in the union where some of the "charges" made would be given a respectful hearing.

Nowhere else would a congressman l held derelict for accepting the highly honorable and much sought after post of mem bership on the ways and means commit tee; nowhere else would ignorance be told that McLaurin had voted to put a tax of 2 cents a pound on all our cotton.

After a long session of congress, which was particularly onerous upon him because of his activity in the tariff fight as member of the house ways and means committee, and this followed by his enforced activity In the same fight as a member of the sen ate, McLaurin came on here to jump right into the senatorial contest under circumstances of peculiar hardship. Hardly able physically to go in it at all, the strain of travel and daily speaking often in the sun, of endless handshaking and nights without sleep, and all accentuated by the methods of attack mentioned above, this combination of circumstances was too much for him. He is peculiarly intense in his methods. In a speech he plays the limit of his physical, as well as oratorical, powers; and at Yorkville, after the most exciting meeting of the campaign, he fell as he concluded a long speech, and since then has been here at his home. Stories That Are Circulated.

The first thing I heard when I entered the state was that McLaurin was shamming. It didn't take long for that story to kill itself, however, for the people of this state know "Johnny" McLaurin, and they know how absurd any such suggestion is. Then they told me that he had lost his mind. I found that that story was being industriously circulated in the remote sections of the state and is being circulated

Still a third rumor was hatched for use in sections which could not be reached by telegraph and was to be sprung today and tomorrow. This was that he had died. The birth of that rumor was a hit premature and McLaurin's friends promptly took the necessary steps to ounteract it when sprung.

With these decidedly conflicting stories ringing in my ears, I came on here to see for myself. This morning I had a talk with the senator at his handsome home on the edge of town. I found him both very much alive and very much in his right mind; and I found, too, that although now appreciably better, he has been a very ill man. He has had an extremely close call. His physician tells me that he just missed the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain. For a short time there were premonitory symptoms telling of a possible stroke of paralysis, but under skillful treatment, capable nursing and absolute quiet these have disappeared. There is a slight nervous twitch-ing on one side of the face, but beyond this there is no evidence of illness excent extreme weakness. He gave me the same estimate of his campaign that his friends at Columbia had given; he feels confident of victory, basing this on the reports which Colonel Neal, his manager, and other friends give him.

"If I had only been able to go through the campaigning to the end, there would be no doubt of the result," he said. "The crowds were with me everywhere: indications were all that I could have asked. Still, my friends are confident of victory."

There was much in the nature of his attack to recall that which brought on the death of Judge Crisp, but McLaurin possesses the vigor of young manhood has no organic weakness and with a good rest after the excitement of this campaign he will pull through in good shape.

The senator's neighbors and friends in this section of the state take an almos ideal interest in his political success. Like every other man of strength, he has his enemies, but this only results in making his friends the more enthusiastic and ag-

In this section of the state men who have never before taken interest in prima-ries are going out to vote for McLaurin. If the same is true in other : ections of the state, as is believed here, there will be no doubt as to the result.

Conservatives Will Vote for Him. But even this fact is being used by his enemies against him. The campaign which both Irby and Evans have waged has been an appeal to the lowest prejudices of the people, and they are now trying to keep from him the votes of the reform element by claiming that McLaurin is to receive the support of the conservatives, and this in the face of the fact that Mc-Laurin was one of the first of men of power in the state to recognize the jus-tice back of the reform movement. He represents all of the real principles which were involved in that movement-was a pioneer in the advocacy of the free coinage of silver and has upheld throughout his public career the sterling principles of democracy which were back of the so-called farmers' movement in this state and which found their clearest expression in the democratic platform enunciated at Chicago.

McLaurin will get many votes from the ranks of the conservatives, for no man not blinded by factional prejudice can fail to see hiw infinitely superior this man is to either of his opponents; but the fact that he gets conservative vetes will not drive away the support of the democratic masses whose interests he has so ably represented. of democracy which were back of the with not drive away the support of the so ably represented.

He will win.

The prophets are now figuring on Fvans being the second man in the race. Estimates as to the total of the vote differ widely, the men who ought to know best putting it at from 60,600 to 75,600.

How many will fall to the lot of Irby, the good-natured demagogue, the guessers will not say; they are equally at sea concerning the lot of Evans, who combines a certain political ability with his undoubted demagoguery.

But the guessers and the prophets are pretty nearly all agreed that the sum total of the votes cast for these two will fall short of that cast for John L. McLaurin, whose political career has been marked throughout by honesty and integrity, who short of that east for John L. McLaurin, whose political career has been marked throughout by honesty and integrity, who is at all times the earnest advocate and supporter of true democratic principles and whose presence in the senate of the United States will never bring the blush of shame to the state which had a Hayne, a McDuffle, a Calhoun.

NICHOLS & HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building

ATLANTA, GA., August 31, 1897.

What Is To Be Done About It?

Mr. J. T. Dennis writes us a letter from Meda. Bibb county, in which he complains that The Constitution is very sweeping in its charges against the private parties who work misdemeanor convicts," and he says that in this way a stigma is placed upon them which he thinks unjust and uncalled for.

Well, we give Mr. Dennis the benefit of his letter by printing it elsewhere But he should understand (as we feel sure the majority of our readers do) that the report of Special Inspector Byrd, to which we give unusual prominence, makes it very clear that there are some camps of misdemeanor convicts where the illegal methods of their employment do not give rise to cruel treatment; that, in short, not all of those who illegally hire county convicts subject them to inhuman treat-

This being clearly set forth in the report itself, so that no person can misunderstand or misread it, The Constitution cannot take the trouble to note specifically the exceptions when it is engaged in denouncing the cruelties practised in these private and illegal camps Those employers of convicts who grow sensitive under the discussion should lose no time in getting out of the unlawful business. However good their intentions may be, and however full they may be of the milk of human kindness, they are in bad company. More than that, they are engaged in a bad business. They are engaged in conniving at a plain violation of the law and, in a state, where law is supposed to reign, that is bad, very bad. If every camp of misdemeanor convicts were a medel of wise and humane management, the fact would remain that it exists in

The Constitution is free to say, however, that the burden of responsibility does not lie as heavily on those who employ the misdemeanor convicts as it pes on those officials who profit by the business. The average citizen is not supposed to be familiar with all the details of the law, and he is probably justified in believing that the officials who offer to hire out the county convicts know what they are about. He understands that they have sworn to uphold the law, and he has no reason to suppose that they are willing to violate it, even in the smallest particular defiance of the laws of the state.

for the sake of gain. The horrors existing in the misdemeanor convict camps show a state of things that we did not believe possible in Georgia, but, shameful as these horrors are, they are dwarfed by the spectacle of county and state officials deliberately violating the plainest law on the statute books for the sake of private gain. Cruelty to the convicts rouses the indignation of the humane, but the spectacle of officials violating the law which they have sworn to uphold and execute, is calculated to arouse alarm. It is in the nature of an attack on the peace and safety of the state, and shows a condition of affairs not to be toler-

That is one reason why The Constitution is urging Governor Atkinson to take the matter into his own hands and thus vindicate the dignity and authority of his office. The violations of the law are so bold and systematic, and they create an emergency so serious that, unless prompt measures are taken to suppress them, they will constitute a blot on what has otherwise been a suc cessful administration.

We do not urge the governor to go beyond his duty in the matter, or to take any step that is not justified by the situation. But we insist that those who suggest a reference of the question to the legislature are trying to shift the responsibility. All that the legislature could do with respect to the misdemeanor convicts it has done. It has declared that county convicts should not be hired to private parties, nor employed in any work which brings them in competition with free labor. That law has been boldly and systematically violated in perhaps more than half of the coun-

That is the situation as it exists to day. That is the situation as it will exist in October. What is the legislature to do about it? Is it to assume the functions of the executive? Is it to send its sergeants-at-arms out into the various counties where the law has been defied, and hale the official violators before its bar for trial and impeachment? Has it authority to do this? If not, tries of Argentina and India buyers in-law passed by that body at a previous ssion has been openly and systematically violated by the very men who have solemnly pledged themselves to uphold and enforce it? We can conceive of nothing that the legislature can do calculated to vindicate the dignity and power of the executive department. It may, to be sure. attach a penalty to the law as it now stands; but what good will that do? If there is no one to enforce the law without a penalty attachment we do not see how such an addition is to be the means of securing its enforcement. It seems to us, to put the matter mildly, that if the matter is to be referred to the legislature, such a procedure will be in the nature of an admission (as well as an advertisement) that the executive department of the state is powerless to enforce laws that are violated by county officials.

Yet we do not urge the governor to take any step that is not in the clear line of his duty and that will not redound to the credit of his administration, and to the well-being of the state.

THE LAW.

Misdemeanor crimes shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed $1,000, or imprisonment not to exceed six months, or to work on the chaingang ON PUBLIC WORKS, . not to exceed twelve months-"PROVIDED, that nothing herein contained shall authorize the giving control of convicts to PRIVATE PARTIES."

THE VIOLATION.

EIGHT HUNDRED misdemeanor convicts are now being worked, in direct violation of the law, by PRIVATE PER-SONS, to whom they are leased in absolute disregard of the law of the state. Many of these convicts are being brutally treated. They are helpless, and the state is permitting advantage to be taken of their helpless condition. Every day's delay adds to the shame of the situation. Any of these convicts can be released from such Siberian confinement by appeal to the courts, but not one in a hundred is able to employ an attorney, or knows how to find his way to the courts. They are slaves, and their helplessness makes their condition the more pitiable.

THE REMEDY.

The governor! In a recent contribution to a New York newspaper Governor Atkinson says: In the absence of legislative action officer to do this work, and in the face of the fact that they had declined to do so. I took the matter in my own hands, appointed a competent man, Colonel Phi-G. Byrd, and instructed him to do the work thoroughly. The purpose of having this inspection made was twofold: first, to aid in securing more humane treatment at once; second, to truthfully assembly, believing that with this knowledge of the condition of things they would give me the proper power heretofore asked for, which will secure just and humane treatment for these un

Now let the governor "take the matter in his own hands" and finish the work so well begun. As he shows, the purpose of the inspection he ordered was to force a change "AT ONCE." That should mean NOW,

The holding of eight hundred men in illegal confinement is a crime. It is a ding in its every aspect-a land of sterblot on the good name of the state. The only person who can stop it is the gov- almost impossible to convey the necesernor, acting through the attorney gender the best surroundings, there is dan-It has specifically declared such leases to private parties to be illegal. It has inhibited them.

The governor holds the key to the situation. Strong pressure will be brought to bear to have the whole question thrown over to the legislature. He will be urged to withhold executive action, on one pretext and another. The Constitution and the people are ready to give the governor full credit for a determined stand for the vindication of the law. The legislature does not meet for two months. In the meantime the governor will not, of course, permit eight hundred helpless victims to be held in illegal confinement!

Admissions of the Gold Organs.

Congressman Bland, of Missouri, in New York World his views on the pos sible and probable changes in the situation that are to be the result of the increased price of wheat.

And in doing so he gives The World and other gold organs some tough chunks of whitleather to chew upon. He points out that the rise in wheat, while it is based entirely on short crops abroad-an event that affords no basis of permanent prosperity-has produced results entirely unexpected by the democrats.

In the first place, the gold organs, which have spent long days and nights, and even years, of patient and painstaking labor to prove that low prices are a good thing for wage-earners, and that high or profitable prices are not a prosperity, sign turned and are tearing down the structure of argument built up with so much care and pains. They gloat over the fact that wheat has risen, although it Negro Man Collapsed on Gilmer Street is producing the very result which they warned workingmen the free coinage of silver would produce, to-wit, an increase in the price of bread with no corresponding increase in the price of wages. In the second place, the democrats contended that the prosperity of the farmer is the foundation of all other prosperity in this country. gold organs denied, and said that high prices of farm products, while they might make the farmer prosperous would hurt the workingmen by increasng the price of the necessaries of life. But now the gold organs not only admit, but insist, that the high price of wheat is a substantial sign of returning Gate City Lodge, K. of P., Appears on danger in American politics. While democrats naturally feel an interest in the rebellion of a leading republican against the chief of his par y, there is, nevertheless, something deeper than party in the present case when it is remembered that the fight of Colonel Conger is against an overwhelming personality which assumes the control of party politics, and brushes away all lieutenants who would have an interest in the same work. If it is possible for Mark Hanna to constitute himself the dictator of his party, and override the will of all others who assume eadership in it, and to make himself the sole autocrat at whose beck millions of Americans must bow, then an evil period has come upon the country, for what is possible to Hanna is equally possible to others. It means the end of government by the people; it means the destruction of government by the party which represents the concrete will of the people; it means that our people. both republican and democratic, have lost the capacity of self-government, and are but the creatures of designing leaders who may, from time to time rise and take control of the machinery

For this reason it is that the letter of Colonel Conger will receive wide atten-It is recognized that through party the government of the country has been conducted. It is but right and proper that the party responsible for government should have its way during the term for which the people have commissioned it. But this relates to a party of intelligent, self-respecting, independent citizens, who are banded together for the furtherance of what they conceive to be correct principles of government; and it is not the triumph of a single individual, whose sole claim is that he has been able to command a corruption fund enough to buy up the country. Colonel Conger makes a good point in quoting the expression of Mr. Blaine "that McKinleyism means measuring the degree of protection granted to any industry by the amount of money such industry will pay to the campaign fund, regardless as to its effect right or wrong upon the people.'

This puts the question in a nutshell, Does the government exist as a mere prize for schemers and adventurers, or is it the instrument through which patriotic people seek to secure life, lib-

Beware of the Klondike.

In the news columns of The Constitution yesterday were related two storiesone of thirteen miners returning from the Klondike country with over half a million dollars; while the other told of the hardships and starvation which lie in wait for those who go forth in pursuit of this ignis fatuus.

The search for gold has at all times been alluring, and has challenged the spirit of adventure which lies concealed in almost every human breast, but it cannot be said that the pursuit has ever brought the pleasure anticinated To those who abandon home and connections to go into a wild and sterile country in search of treasure there concealed there may come fortune; but with goes the loss of every attachment which the heart holds dear. In the present case the dangers attendant are largely intensified. The country is one forbidility beyond imagination, to which it is ger which will bring death to most of those who go there.

The Constitution urges its readers to abandon happy homes and civilizaion in chase of such an uncertain re Such pursuit may be left to ward. those who have neither ties nor connections, who feel at once that they are outcasts on the world, and that their presence will not be missed. There is more of comfort and of fortune in the tilling of a one-horse farm in Georgia than there is in the best return possile in Alaska; because, with the one there is connected the enjoyment of life and of family; with the other there is the necessary dissipation and destruction of home ties which renders the treasure obtained valueless to the owner.

The New York World has gone right to the front of the McKinley procession. Well, that is the place for all genuine gold organs.

If the tariff caused the high price of wheat, Mr. Fulitzer should come right out and say so.

The New York World is afraid the city population of France will cry for That would be bad, but about the population of some of pur cities-especially New York?

The republican protectionists are not allowed to "gloat." It is charged that prosperity is the result of the high price of wheat.

Maybe it is the success of Mr. Hall Caine's "herculean" novel that has brought prosperity.

THE CONVICT QUESTION.

Thomasville, Ga., Times: Joe Mans-field's plan of buying Sapelo island for a penal colony is indorsed by a good many Georgia Cracker: Colonel Phil Byrd, who was appointed by Governor Atkinson to inspect the convict camps of the state, reports that in most of the camps the convicts are subjected to horrible cruelties; that they are half-clad, half-shod and half-fed and made to work eighteen hours a fed and made to work eighteen hours a day. The report is full of zensational charges and Colonel Byrd does not hesitate to tell the result of his investigations in a characteristically plain way.

Brunswick, Ga., Advertiser: Representative Joe Mansfield, of McIntosh, is around ing interest in the proposition to convert Sapelo island into a penal colony for the state. He wants the state to buy it, and points how it may be made a great self-sustaining farm. The plan is not by any means without merit, offering a healthful location that can be easily guarded, and n every way converted into a model insti-

Hamilton, Ga., Journal: We have the remarkable spectacle in Georgia of the whipping post being abolished and yet not abolished. An officer of the law can-not punish criminals by whipping, but the contractor of a misdemeanor camp can exercise his discretion in this matter. Our next legislature should take hold of this knotty problem and make som cal changes in the management of our criminals.

North Georgia Citizen: The convic leases will expire in April, 1899, and the coming legislature will probably be called upon to pass some measure for the disposition of them. Public sentiment has crystallized against the lease system and it must go. The only and reasonable thing to do is to pass some law by which they can profitably work the public roads. Any measure that does less than this will receive the just condemnation of the pec

Rome, Ga., Tribune: The wise methods of English government commend them-selves to the world, and have been frequently imitated by the foremost of the earth. Other nations have followed Abstractions have followed Abstractions have followed Abstractions. lowed England's lead, and have found the plan the best. Why should not Georgia establish a penal island? Is it not the best that could be devised?

Rome, Ga., Hustler: To work the convicts of Georgia on the public highways is not practicable. The cost would be enormous; so great, in fact, no man who has studied the question and figured on the outlay will for a moment advocate this plan The state should have a permanent peni-tentlary for at least the women, boys and disabled and invalid males. A permanent camp on a state farm for this element, and hen if the able-bodied criminals are to be hired out, have a close supervision state. Georgia must solve this great prob lem and while doing so have woven into fabric of the new system, "wisdom, justice and moderation. Bogart News: Our roads here are a disgrace to any civilized country and the only prospect of having better ones is through the use of the convict. A system of good public roads in this state would add 2 per cent to the value of all property in the state, besides putting millions of dol-lars in the farmers' pockets each year.

Sylvania Telephone: of Colonel Byrd, filed with the governor, shows beyond a doubt that the system is wrong, and that the state's convicts do not have humane treatment at the hands of the lessees. The question just now is attracting a good deal of interest and will be one of the most important questions with which the next legislature will have to deal.

Monroe, Ga., Advertiser: The presen method of disposing of the convicts of this state of Georgia is a crying shame and a blot upon humanity, and Governor Atkinson, after great labor, has compiled full and complete report of its iniquities. He will call the attention of the next legislature to the present system and recommend the purchase of land and the erection of a suitable penitentiary near a water power. We would like to call the attention of those in authority to the splendid location and magnificent power at High Falls. It is near the state's cen ter and no doubt enough cheap land could be secured between here and that point have the penitentiary located in county. It would mean a great many thousand dollars in trade and a ready market for our merchants. And it means of Georgia, some time ago, appointed a commissioner to examine and report to aim upon the condition of the county chaingangs of the state, and the report has been made. It is a recital of such horrors as are incredible of belief, if we had not been furnished with the facts, by the agent of the state, who gives dates, names and circumstances as the result of a personal investigation. This report shows that men and women are worked together; that the women wear men's clothes, and are made to strip to be whipped in the presence of the men; that convicts are beaten to death by the brutal guards; that large numbers of convicts are made to sleet in crowded places, reeking with filth and foul air; that the food given the poor creatures is, in many cases, rotten and unfit to support life; that in one camp a white woman is kept in confinement with negro male convicts; and that many other cruelties and outrages are committed which, from their nature, would be offensive in print. Will the people of Georgia longer tolerate such a disgrace the civilization and humanity of this age?

Pelham, Ga., Home: The old question that ever and anon bobs up in the various states as to what to do with the convicts is now on in Georgia. It is a perplexing problem and one difficult to solve. To give employment to the convicts without interfering with the rights of labor and the rights of the people of the state is apparently about as far from colution as ever. Georgia's legislature will soon be called upon to take some action in this important matter. Employing convicts in the mines of Tennessee caused riot and bloodshed in that state because of the onflict with the rights of the free miners. other states have had serious trouble in solving the perplexing question. Governor Atkinson has investigated the penitentiary problem in a number of other states and at the next meeting of the legislature submit a plan similar to that which is being tried in Tennessee. Tennessee has purchased a large body of land and is erecting upon it suitable buildings will put the convicts to work there in such occupations as will interfere as little as possible with the rights of farmers and aborers. Governor Atkinson will propose the purchase of a large body of land, about 5,000 acres, upon which there are clay for brick making and stone suitable for building purposes. The convicts can be employed building their penitentiary, others in cultivating the land, under guard, and when the buildings are completed there will be workshops of different kind there will be workshops of different kinds in which the convets will be employed. Probably no part of the state will show any interse desire to secure the location of the penitentiary, although there are large bodies of land in various sections of Georgia that can be secured for the purpose. So far as outlined the governor's plan seems to be free from objections: that can be urged against other tions that have been broached dom of the next legislature will be given an opportunity to exert itself, as the lease system will soon expire and it is necesments for the care of the state's con-

INTERPRETATION OF TARIFF.

Washington, August 30.-Involved in the question of interpretation of section 22 of the new tariff law with regard to the 10 per cent discriminating duty on foreign goods coming into the United States from Canada or Mexico, which is now before the attorney general for decision, is another question of equal if not greater magnitude.

This other question has almost entirely escaped public notice, but it is giving the reasury great concern. It was referred to the attorney general by Secretary Gage for interpretation along with the other features of section 22 which are in controversy.

It involves the question of whether this discriminating duty of 10 per cent does not apply to all goods imported in foreign vessels landing at United States ports which are not exempt from discriminating tonage taxes by express treaty stipulation.

The question arises from another slight deviation from the language of previous provisions in section 22, which, if made intentionally, would seem to indicate that it was designed to discriminate against three-fourths of all the big trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific steamship lines, as well as many of the South American lines.

In all previous laws the section corresponding to section 22 of the new law after providing for the 10 per cent discriminating duty on goods imported in vessels not flying the United States flag, provides that "this discriminating duty shall not apply to goods, wares or merchandise which shall be imported in vessels not of the United States, entitled at the time of such importation by the treaty or act of congress to be entered in ports of the United States on the payment of the same duties as shall then be payable on goods, etc. imported in vessels of the United States."

The new law omits "act of congress" and substitutes "convention," so as to make it read "not exempt by treaty or convention." It is in pursuance of an act of congress (section 4228), that presidents in the past have by proclamation exempted the vessels of many countries from this discriminating duty.

The question now before the attorney eneral is whether the omissions of the words "act of congress" does not repeat section 4228.

If it does it will strike a tremendous blow to all foreign lines now exempt by presidential proclamation and confine the exemption strictly to the vessels of countries with which we have treaties granting such exemption

If British vessels should be thrown back upon their treaty exemptions, which are contained in the treaty of Washington, goods of all British vessels sailing from other parts except the territorial posses. sions in Europe would have to pay the additional 10 per cent tax. More than that, all goods shipped in British vessels not the product or manufacture of Great Britain's European possessions, even though shipped from English, Scotch or Irish ports, would be subject to the discriminating duty. An adverse decision would, therefore, affect the Cunard, Arrow, Trans-Atlantic and other trans-Atlantic lines to that extent, the French line, the Phelps line, running to Mediterranean ports; the two Portuguese freight lines, except products of Portugal; several of the South American Thes included in what are known as the Green Line of steamers; the Japanese, the Canadian, Pacific and the Oriental and Occident steamers on the Pacific, besides hundreds of tramp steamers.

THE PASSING THRONG.

Judge William A. Hocker, of Florida, is in Atlanta, where he has stopped over for a few days after his summer vacation. "Hopes were never brighter," he said, "for the democratic party. We have no fear in Florida and will be all ready when the time comes again." Judge Hocker is one of the leading spirits political and otherwise in the state of the everglades. He has resided there since 1874, when he came from Virginia. His political experience has been varied. Entering the legislature in 1877, he has filled many positions of trust and the people have their eye on him for high honors. In 1893 he was appointed judge of the fifth judicial circuit, this being the largest and most important in the state. It was in the anti-Chipley caucus of the last legislature, when the contest narrowed down to Judge Hocker and S. R. Mallory, that judicial duties kept Hocker away, but he lost the nomination by only four votes. He has a number of friends in Atlanta and has been delightfully entertained during his stay

The warrant charging the young man with cheating and swindling was taken out by Mr. Joseph Hunt, but he acted only as the representative of other people. It seems that about three months ago Gari-son borrowed $135 from John T. Moody & Co., and gave them his sixty days' note for the amount indorsed by Mr. W. D.

Mr. Moody said last night that at the suggestion of Mr. Dimmock they required Garrison to give a chattel mortgage on his effects, including a horse, buggy and other effects of a similar character. Mr. Moody says the money was borrowed at the rate of 8 per cent per annum.

When the note fell due it was presented to Garrison for payment, according to the statement made by Mr. Moody, and was not paid. The firm which had loaned the money then wrote to Mr. Dimmock, telling him of the circumstances, and asking that they either be paid the amount or that the note be renewed. Mr. Dimmock, it seems, was willing to stand security on the note if the time should be extended, and so wrote to John

WATER BOARD WANT $200,000 IN BONDS

A called meeting of the board of water commissioners in the mayor's office at the chamber of commerce at 12 o'clock yestersteps Atlanta has taken toward advancement in some time By a unanimous vote the board decided to recommend the issuance of $200,000 worth of bonds to lay new water pipes throughout the city and to generally improve the ta, when the people will be given an opportunity of voicing their sentiments on the bond issue. The subject was very freely discussed at the meeting at noon yesterday, and every commissioner, including the mayor and superintendent, was heartily in favor of the proposed plan. The bonds are to bear

4 per cent interest and to run for about twenty or thirty years. The action was taken in answer to a great demand all over the city for more water service. There are not near enough water pipes, and a great cry is going up from all parts of Atlanta for an increased supply. Innumerable residences never have been reached and there are many streets on which water mains have never

The $200,000, however, would mark a new era in the history of the department. Pipes could be run on almost every street in the city and all demands for water would be satisfied. and this fact in itself is assurance that the bond issue will soon be forthcoming. The matter will be submitted to the public, however, and every citizen will have The transaction will not take one cent out of the people's pockets and there is little doubt that the bond issue will receive an overwhelming majority. NEW FIRE ALARM BOXES TO BE PUT IN and of Latest Pattern.

Will Save Much Time. CHIEF JOYNER HAS ARRANGED FOR THEM

One of Gamewell's Men Will Work on System and Then It Will Be One of Best in United States.

Within the next few weeks there will be some very important and advantageous changes and improvements in the fire alarm system of the city of Atlanta. While in New York last week Chief W. R. Joyner visited the Gamewell fire alarm works and there made arrangements for the changes to be made in the

Besides putting in nine new boxes of the very latest improved pattern, all the old boxes here will be changed so that an alarm of fire will be received with exactly twice the rapidity with which it is now turned in.

One of Gamewell's best men will be sent to Atlanta and he will spend several days here putting in new boxes and changing the old ones so that they will work with more rapidity and in a more satisfactory

Heretofore the fire department has experienced some trouble on account of delayed alarms from fires in the center of the city. This was caused by the fact that pesons discovering fires were com-pelled to hunt for a key to the fire alarm box before they could give the alarm. In many cases this delay has caused fires to gain considerable headway and become

In order to overcome this delay Chief Joyner, while in New York, obtained nine fire alarm boxes of the latest pattern such as are now used in all large cities, and he will place these where the boxes in the center of Atlanta are at present. The new boxes are known as keyless boxes and all that it is necessary for a person giving an alarm to do is to turn a knob on the outside of the box. Inside of the box is a large gong which rings as soon as the knob is turned and wil attract the attention of persons two blocks away. This is to attract attention to the person giving the alarm so that any one giving a false alarm will be detected No. 12 box, which is at Broad street bridge, will be moved near the corner of Broad and Marietta streets and will be a keyless box. Box 13, at Peachtree and Broad streets, will be a keyless box and the other keyless boxes are: No. 31 at Alabama and Pryor, No. 32 at Whitehall and Hunter, No. 34 at Whitehall and Mitch ell, No. 41 at Peachtree and Decatur, No. 42 at Decatur and Ivy, and No. 64 a Edgewood avenue and Pryor street.

A new keyless box to be known as No. 33 will be placed at the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets. Chief Joyner has long known the need of a box at this particular location and has been anxious to place one there. Gongs Will Strike Faster.

At present the gongs in the engine houses strike only a little faster than the big bell in the tower and on this account the men and horses are ready to leave the engine houses long before the number of the box has shown up on the indicator. This causes them to have to wait on the the men able to get out of the houses quicker. Chief Joyner has arranged to have all the boxes timed up so that they will strike just twice as fast as they do In order to do this it was necessary bell and when the boxes have been fixed it will not begin to strike until the first round has sounded in the engine houses. The electrician who is to do the work will probably arrive here in the course of the next few days and will not leave until Atlanta has one of the best fire alarm systems to be found in the United States. Except for being timed up, the old boxes in the residence portions of the city will not be changed. They were put in during the winter of 1882 and are of an old style. and have done good service, but notwith-standing that fact they are still good and there is no need to change them yet. The change is made in the center of the city because it is thought that in such an important district there should be no risk of a box failing.

Chief Joyner is of the opinion that the placing of the new boxes and the timing up of the old ones will result in much good. He has given the subject of fire alarms a good amount of study and will be able to make Atlanta's as perfect as that in any other city. It is probable that soon after the keyless poxes are put up an ordinance will be passed placing a heavy penalty on any one caught giving a false alarm.

ATTEND NORMAL SCHOOL.

First Day's Session Was Held Yesterday-Addresses Made.

The teachers of the high schools and grammar schools of the city met yester-day morning and the first day's session of the normal school was held. The session was exceedingly interesting and the teachers did much work. Superinand the teachers did much work. Superintendent Slaton made a short address to the teachers in which he gave them much timely advice in connection with the beginning of the year's work.

Professor L. M. Landrum, assistant superintendent, also made a short address. Judge Van Epps, president of the board of education, then spoke to the teachers.

The programme for the work of the week has been outlined and the teachers will be able to accomplish very much. They have begun work with a will and good results are anticipated.

Meeting Again Postponed. Mr. Henderson Haliman received a telegram yesterday stating that Commander Smyth. of the National Sons of Confederate Veterans, could not be in Atlanta Thursday night. The meeting of Sons of Veterans will, therefore, be postponed until Friday night and will be held in the chamber of commerce.

The severe hailstorm yesterday brought disaster to farmers.

The storm could not have fallen in a more inopportune time for the farmers. The damage to the fodder crop was almost as complete as could be where the storm struck heaviest. The time for fodder pulling is just coming on and the blades on the corn are just ripe enough to gather. The hall yesterday split the crisp blades into thousands of little shreds, making the fodder absolutely valueless.

The cotton crop was severely injured.

At this time of the year the cotton plants are full of young forms and blossoms. The heavy hallstones beat off these forms and destroyed the prospect for all of the late crop. The market gardeners around Atlanta growing ar very tender and the heavy stones beat the plants to pieces. The storm will doubtless be followed by an increase in the price of vegetables and country Fortunately for the farmers in general, the storm was local in both its origin and extent. At the government weather bureau the rain gauge registered 0.53 inch, or a little more than half an inch of precipitation. This fell from the beginning of the storm at 5:30 until 6 o'clock. During the storm the temperature took a sudden downward swoop from 92 degrees to 63, a rapid fall of 30 degrees hardly ever equaled. The velocity of the wind was not very great. August is making weather history of a rather extreme and unusual nature.

The maximum temperatures throughout the scuthern half of the country were above 90 degrees during the day, and at the local station the highest reached was 92 degrees, breaking the previous record for the highest temperature on the 20th of August, which was 93 degrees in 1892. The present warm spell has been an unusual one for smasning previous records, as the maximum temperatures from the 21th to the 30th, inclusive, have exceeded all others on these dates from 1879 to 1897. all others on these dates from 1879 to 189 by from 1 degree to 5, as will be seen b

Weather Conditions.

The weather map last night showed a ridge of high barometer extending from the lake regions to Florida, but without any well defined high area. The barometer was relatively low over the maddle Atlantic coast states, and quite an extensive area of low barometer covered the country between the Rocky mountains and the Mississippi river, the center of which was to the westward of South Dakota, and the southern edge extended to the west gulf coast.

While the weather was generally clear during yesterday and was mostly clear last night, yet the conditions were such, as far as they relate to this section, as are attended by unsettled and threatening weather. There was a moderately heavy shower at Norfolk, Atlanta and Memphis, 1.06 falling at the latter place, and light showers at Jupiter, Port Eads, Vicksburg, Abilene, Chattanooga and Cincinnati.

Hallstones as big as bird eggs poured down on the housetops and streets, while the lightning flashed continuously. For fifteen minutes it was a vivid scene The only sound that could be distinguished above the roar of the falling hall was the loud, continual crack and crash of the After the storm had cleared away it was ound that it had dealt death to one man and had severely shocked many others. Many electric cars were struck, and frightened passengers were sent scurrying all ver the streets. A house in West End was struck and badly damaged. The victim of the deadly bolt was George Meriwether, a negro driver for the Zuber grocery, in Kirkwood. The same bolt shocked several others. Lightning's Fatal Work. Meriwether was driving Zuber's grocery wagon in Kirkwood when the storm first urst over the city. The negro got out of his wagon and went to the head of the horse to hold the animal. He was standing near a telegraph pole. On the pole were wires that extended from the overhead wires to the ground. A bolt of lightning struck the overhead wires in a freakish sort of way and went flashing along the wires until it reached the pole where the wire conductors led to the ground. The lightning shot downward toward the ground and struck Meriwether. The fluid burned its way through the negro's body, and the infortunate fell to the ground dead. Just behind Meriwether was Paul Scruggs, who was driving the ice wagon which supplies Decatur people with ice. When the lightning struck Meriwether it shocked Scruggs severely, but he managed to jump from his wagon and go flying across a cotton neld. He was met two miles away by some men. He told the men that lightning had killed himself and an-

The inmates of the residence were badly shocked, but none fatally. The lightning struck on the south side and went entirely through the house. On its way it tore up a bed, and a set of counterpanes were burned up. The sides of the house were torn up. The house can be repaired for something over a hundred dollars.

The street cars came in for the worst part of the storm. A Decatur car was struck by lightning shock frightened several passengers very badly. Dr. Green and Colonel T. J. Ripley were on the car. Eye witnesses say tha they landed fifty feet from the car the first jump, with the other passengers close b hind. The lady passengers screamed, an several thought themselves killed. Dr Mayson, of Decatur, was struck on the head by a falling electric light in the car. The lightning burned out the fuse in the lights and they fell to the floor of the car. The fase in the motor of the car was burned out and the car could not run until re-Traction Car Is Stopped.

Passengers on the Traction line to Decatur had quite a unique experience while coming into the city during the storm. A mile this side of Decatur the car was struck by lightning and the motor disabled.
The passengers sat and waited for a half hour while the hailstorm beat on the roof of the car. After a long wait, a relief car came in sight and hitched on the broken car. Everything went all right until the two cars reached a point on Ellis street inside the city limits. Here a bolt of light ning struck the pulling car and burned ou the motor. Both cars had to be left standing while the passengers walked in town. The city street cars were all more or less struck by lightning. A heavily loaded car was coming up Houston street, and just as the steep grade near Ivy street was reached a flash of lightning wrapped itself around the moving wheels of the car. In an instant the motor was burned out, and the car was rolling down hill instead of climbing up. There were several shrieks and screams from the passengers, but the motorman soon had the brakes on and the conductor managed to convince the passengers that they were not all killed. A car was struck when passing the Equitable building, and the fuse of the motor was burned out. Traffic on some of the lines was stopped for two or three hours. Altogether, it was the worst thunder storm Atlanta has experienced in years. The damage in the city will amount to hundreds of dollars.

Property Will Not Be Changed at Present, but at a Later Day a Large Building May Be Erected.

An important deal in real estate, which was concluded yesterday morning, is the purchase of the old Gress property or Whitehall street, now occupied by the Globe Shoe and Clothing Company, by J. M. High, for $45,000 This piece of property is one of the best pieces of real estate in that portion of the clty and the sale will be of interest to real estate men and property owners. The property was bought by the High company as an investment and at present there will be no change made in the building which now occupies it. It is probable that a larger building will be erected there

The property was bought through Ansley Bros. and went to the High company from the Georgia Title and Guarantee Company. The titles to the property were found to be good and the trade was made in a very short space of time. Mr. J. E. McClellan, of the High company, was seen yesterday, but stated that he was not at liberty to give out any in formation in regard to the purchase of the property. He would not tell the price paid for the property.

As compared with the price paid for other property on Whitehall street of the same size, the price paid for the old Gress prop erty was comparatively modest. It is understood that the purchase price was $45,000 and that it has already been handed over to the company making the The property bought is next to that occupied by the Wood-Beaumont Company and is 52x176 feet in dimension, facing both

Sale of Boys' School Suits

This is important to frugal heads of families in whose homes urchins abide: We will soon open up a new department for Children's and Boys' Clothing. It will occupy the second floor. A handsome automatic passenger elevator will carry you to it. In the meantime, we want to close out every garment in the present stock. When we invite you to those elegant quarters, we don't want you to see a trace of anything but absolutely fresh goods=-this season's productions. In order to accomplish our object, prices are now reduced lower than you've ever seen advertised. No competing offerings can possibly approach the values now current here. We are manufacturers; pay no intermediate profits; our system eliminates the middleman's margin; cost here means 20 to 35 per cent less than elsewhere. If you need Boys' or Children's Suits in weights and colors that will give grand service well into October it will pay you richly to investigate this pre-School Sale of School Suits.

Theater Habitues Will Not Give Up Drinks and Cigarettes Without · a Kick.

The warm crusade which the city fathers have been waging against the female theatrical enthusiasts has taken a new turn, and now the male portion of the es are to come in for their share

Councilman Hutchison will introduce an ordinance at the next session of council prohibiting any man, or woman, either, for that matter, leaving their seats at the theater from the time the curtain goes he first until it goes down on the

The Johnnies must sit perfectly still, ecording to the dictates of Councilman lutchison. They may possibly cross the le to chat with a friend or visit a box for a confidential seance with some facharmer between acts, but that is all. No matter how dry your guzzle gets, it will have to stay dry until the play is over. The schooners will have ceased pass-ing over the bar at that hour—the ships do not pass Atlanta in the night after 10 o'clock-and the rosy-nosed tipplers will find themselves in an unfortunate cordi-

That a great howl will be raised over this crusade and that the rotund council-man from the sixth will have some trouble in plowing a furrow for his ordinance through council, there is little doubt. Some through council, there is little doubt. Some of the more tender-hearted city fathers will be disposed to be more lenient with the boys and allow them to leave the theaters a few minutes before 10 o'c'ock. if they wish. There may be decided opposition from the outside also, similar to that urged against Councilman. Culberson's famous bleycle ordinance, and the success of Mr. Hutchison's bill is speculative.

Says the Bill Must Pass.

But Councilman Hutchison is confident als proposed measure is a just one, and measure is a just one, and he will work assiduously to have it passed. Council seems to be in a peculiar frame of mind toward remedying existing theatrical evils just now, and as the offi-cial gun is pointed in this direction, Mr. Hutchison thinks he will have little trouble in firing another charge of canister at the local temples of Thespis.

The councilman seems to have been actuated in his moral stand by frequent disturbances of his mental equilibrium while enjoying exciting histrionic seances by men rushing wildly out of the house at most inopportune times. He has been made furious innumerable times on this account, and has determined to put a stop to the nuisance or know the reason why.
"Why," said he yesterday afternoon, his eyes flashing, "this thing is getting to be a perfect nuisance. You can't go to the theater now but what some fellow sits right down in front of you and tobs up and down like a jumping jack through the entire play. The ladies don't like it; it is positive discourtesy to them. Moreover, I think it would be a good preventative against our young men drinking. Nine-tenths of those ducks who leave the theaters between the acts go to the keep them there until the show is out. We may have less drunkards in the course of a few years. We have made the ladies take hats off, now let's make the boys inside. I think this is a good thing, and I am going to push it along."

It is said another city father is contemplating the introduction of an ordinance have taken the country by storm. The parties owning it are receiving hundreds of letters daily asking about it and the One of the leading cotton factors in the city in speaking about the new cotton said: "It seems to me to be a most wonderful product, and will in a measure revolutionize the cotton industry. When four to five bales can be grown where one has been era in the cotton industry has dawned upon us. Several of the leading cotten men of this city have visited the little farm of Mr. Jackson in his county, and state that the cotton seems to be a dis tinct genus, and that they are unacquainted with anything like it.

"This being the case, it is important not only to the owners of this cotton, but to the people of the south, that it should be properly cared for. Mr. Jackson and his friends should be prevailed upon not to sell a single seed this year, but that they should all be saved and planted in the fertile districts either of Mississippi, Louisiana or Texas, next year, and a sufficient amount of seeds grown to supply the amount of seeds grown to supply the market.

"If this cotton will do what is claimed for it upon the poor land where it is now planted, there is no teiling what it will accomplish in a real cotton district. If Mr. Jackson and his friends are not financially able to do this work, they should interest some one with means and cultivate the cotsome one with means, and cultivate the cotton another year, before disposing of any of its seed. It is said that large sums of money have been offered for the seed, and It looks as if it were worth a considerable

the Opposition People.

JCHNNIES MUST KEEP SEATED HE WILL CALL NO CONVENTION

The Chairman Thinks They Are Crowd of Disgruntled Politicians.

In This Light He Regards Their Action and Will Ignore All They Have To Say.

"I have no knowledge of any action on the part of the republican party to call a state convention. I know of no convention. I have received no committee. shall recognize none if the members are of the kind which composed a reported meeting last week. Any request or de-menting last week. Any request or de-mand made upon me by any such reported organ, zation I shall ignore. I cannot af-ford to have any discussion with people of that kind."

of that kind."

This was the reply of Chairman Walter Johnson, of the state republican central committee, in regard to the roast which has been given him by the disgruntled wing of the republican party. The marshal is as serone as a summer day and is in nowise disconcerted by the flaring charges made in the letter of Tom Blodgett in made in the letter of Tom Blodgett in which it is said that he was guilty of all manner of evils known in the political category. The threatened disruption in party ranks does not trouble the chair-man and all charges hurled at him are received with a smile of indifference. Chairman Johnson regards the effort which is now being made by the republicans in certain quarters as the outburst of keen disappointment, and the sputterings of a disgruntled crowd. He will refuse to have communication with them and wil his office door in their faces should they peer in. The same may be said of Rucker. He has looked upon the efforts of the enemies in his own party to disrupt things with a smile of amusement. "I shall do what I see proper," he said "I shall not be influenced by the action of any of these men and when I get ready to make necessary changes in office or make other appointments I shall do so without considering the action of these men who are trying to stir up strife."

Work of the Mutineers.

In the meantime the opposition party is hard at work and the next plan on foot is to hold a huge state convention, when they will elect a man whom they will call the authorized chairman of the republican party. In their opinion Chair-man Johnson has no right to preside and he has been dubbed by them the postal card chaliman. This opposition party are hard at work preparing for their conven-tion and declae that within sixty days they will have a crowd which will prove legal head of the party in this state.

MR. STEWART NOT A JOLLY TAR.

He Says He Is Not in the U. S. Navy as a Regular Business.

Mr. A. P. Stewart, the tax collector of Fulton county, wishes to make the an-nouncement that he is not in the employ of the United States navy.

This announcement, without an explanation, may cause some concern among Mr. Stewart's friends who know him only in the capacity of a county official. Mr. Stewart has made the explanation many times within the past few days, but he desires that it now be made publicly.

When Mr. Stewart became interested in little "Biscult." the street waif, he little thought that he was introducing himself as an officer in the navy of Uncle Sam, but such has been the result. Applicants by the score have called at the tax col-lector's office with the mild request that Mr. Stewart secure positions for their boys on some big training ship.

"I've got a boy on the farm," says the applicant, who warmly shakes the hand of the tax collector. "He's big and strong, but he ain't suited to plowing. He would make a mighty fine sailor, he would, and I want you to get him a place on a ship."

That was the way the second application That was the way the second application came in. Since then these requests have come at all hours of the day and some of the applicants have called at the residence of Mr. Stewart to make known their wants.

"Please say in The Constitution," said Mr. Stewart yesterday, "that I am not getting positions for boys on training ships. Out of pity I have tried to aid little "Biscuit," and through my efforts in this direction the report has doubtless gained ground that I am in the business regularly."

regularly."
Many applicants called upon Mr. Stewart yesterday afternoon in search of assistance for their sons.

GOVERNOR VISITS "SMOKY ORDINARY"

His Father Lived.

The Cognomen Was Given During the Revolutionary When Cornwallis Marched Through Virginia.

"Smoky Ordinary" is the queer name of the place where Governor Atkinson has been visiting relatives and friends for the past week.

The governor returned from his visit reminiscences of his stay in the pretty little Virginia village. The governor says it is a delightful place despite its rather odd sounding name. It was at Smoky Ordinary that the father of Georgia's governor lived for years before he came to this state. There he ernor's mansion in the rain and handed taught school, was county justice and one of the leading men of the county. It was years before the governor was born that his father lived at this historic read the following telegram from one of old spot on Virginia's topography. The governor was born in Georgia after his father removed to this state. His visit to Smoky Ordinary last week was the > Nearly half a century has passed since the father of Governor Atkinson left Smoky Oranary! yet he is remembered and loved by the people of Brunswick county until this day. When his son, the governor, went there last week dozens of the old friends of the father crowded around him and classed his hand.

> "It was refreshing," said the governor.

"It was refreshing," said the governor "to find that so many of the people there still remembered my father and had taken such a deep interest in my own career, simply because I am his son. I met great many of the pupils of my father, who had been to his school at Smoky

Ordinary, many years ago.

'They are all old men now, those pupils of my father. They were big boys before I was born, but they were glad to see me and they made me have a very pleasant dinary with friends and was at Lawrenceville, in the same county, with my sister. I went to Richmond to visit relatives there before I came home." The unique name of Smoky Ordinary suggests the interesting question of its edgin. Governor Atkinson tells the story, and it is full of historic interest.

Smoky Ordinary owes its name to an incident of the revolutionary war. In the early days of this country all of the untry inns and hotels were known as ordinaries. There was a good-sized country inn at the place where Smoky Ordinary now is established. Near by this hotel were two storehouses, in which were kept enormous stores of tobacco. While Corn-wallis, the English lord and general, was marching with his army through the Virginias, he came upon this tavern and the two tobacco houses. The main army under Cornwallis passed the place unmo lested, but the foraging corps under Tarle-ton immediately followed. Tarleton set fire to the two storehouses and left them to burn down. The tavern was not fired. The storehouses were filled with the par-tially dried tobacco, which burned very slowly. For days it smoked and the smothered fire slowly consumed the store of tobacco. The smoke from the burning houses enveloped the tavern with a thick mantle of smoke, which hung around for quite a while. The residents of the com-munity named the place the smoky wil-dinary was given it. The old tavern still stands there just as it did in the days when Lord Cornwallis marched by it with his soldiers from Eng-land, and the room where Tarleton's horse foragers took refreshments is still there. The place was somewhat remodeled by Governor Atkinson's father, who converted it into a residence and schoolhouse. He taught school there for several years. Politics at Smoky Ordinary is lively. Governor Atkinson was called upon to address a county convention while there He made a speech to the convention which was partly composed of the men who had formerly been students in the tavern under his father. TO BUILD ARMORY AND AUDITORIUM

Plan to Mayor Yesterday.

Scheme Is To Combine the Two Under One Gigantic Roof.

ABOUT THE TOWN AND ITS QUEER NAME | WOULD BE NO EXTRA EXPENSE TO GITY

And Would Furnish One of the Finest Auditoriums in the Country-To Cost $65,000-The Plan.

John S. Candler, colonel of the Fifth regiment Georgia volunteers, proposes that a gigantic armory be built for his troops and a magnificent auditorium under one roof. Judge Candler submitted his scheme to Mayor Collier by letter yesterday morning. The mayor seems very much pleased with the idea, and there are good chances for this city to soon have one of the finest armories and auditoriums in the south. This would be an excellent innovation for the city, which would be hailed with delight by all the citizens. The local military has felt the reed of a first-class armory and drill hall for a number of years. There is no place in the city large enough to answer this purpose. The various companies are quartered in various halls throughout the cky, which are inadequate on account of their size to furnish the necessary rendezyous for drilling.

Moreover, the city has long been in need of a large auditorium. The Moody taberracle has come nearer filling this need than any building in the city, but even this is by no means a first-class auditorium. Atlanta needs a hall that will seat at least 5,000 people. The events that require such a capacity are innumerable, and many conventions and various large gatherings are kept away from this city just on account of the absence of such an auditorium.

Both Under One Roof. Judge Candler has been giving the matter much thought here of late, and has been trying to devolve some scheme where by both these difficulties could be remedied He has consulted with several of his fellow officers in the regiment, and the re sult is the proposed combination of both buildings under one roof, the structure to be one of the most imposing of its kind in the whole country.

Judge Candler fully outlined his plan to

Mayor Collier yesterday morning and gave an invitation to him and the finance committee of the council to meet at his residence in Kirkwood next Friday night to meet the officers of the regiment for the purpose of considering the feasibility of the The invitation will be accepted and there it little doubt that the scheme will be placed on firm footing. Mayor Collie is always ready to aid in any movemen for the development of the city, and as the proposition Judge Candler makes will not involve the city in one cent of expense there is little doubt that Mayor Col-ller and the finance committee will read-ily agree to the proposition. The site Judge Candler has selected for

The site Juage Candler has selected for the building is on East Hunter street, directly opposite the northern entrance to the capitol. The lot is owned by St. Philips's church and is sufficiently large for such a building, being 118x235. How the Scheme Is To Work.

The church is willing to sell the property, so it is said, for the consideration of about $20,000, although no figures have been definitely agreed upon.

The city of Atlanta pays the Fifth regi-

It is the idea of the promoters of this movement to borrow a sufficient amount to erect the armory and let the $2,500 go toward paying the interest, consolidating all the armories, of course, throughout the city into the new one.

The interest would amount to more than the sum already al-lowed by the city, so that the city would not be out a single cent in the transaction. but on the other hand, greatly benefited, The building would hold and seat about 5,000 people. The main floor would be movable so as to make it level for drilling purposes and slanting for auditorium pur poses. This could be easily done. The floor would admit four or five companies at the same time and would afford such an opportunity for drilling as the southern

Just how many stories high the building would be has not been definitely determined. The first floor, or basement, will be devoted to the rifle range, gymnasium, etc., of the company. The second floor, or ground floor, would be devoted to the auditorium. The chairs would be movable and there would be an immense stage at one end, with all modeern conveniences necessary to an up-to-date auditorium.

The next story would also be devoted to the regiment, consisting of officers' quar-ters, various offices, etc. The building would be constructed of brick and in the very latest design and would be one of the Judge Candler Enthusiastic Judge Candler was very much elated over his plan when seen last night. "I think it would be an excellent thing," said he, for the military companies as well as the city. We are greatly in need of an armory and the city is badly in need of a firstclass auditorium. There are numerous events that could be held in the place to much more advantage than any place in the city. Atlanta would attract many more conventions, and we would be able to enjoy a much better class of entertainments that need just such an auditorium for their performances. I know of one big convention that would have come to Atlanta if we had had a suitable place for meeting.

"The plan is entirely practicable. The entire cost of the building could, I think, be liquidated in a comparatively short while from the revenue from the audito-rium. We could give a regular course of entertainments; the rental for large gatherings would be a great source of re-

TOWN OF DAWSON WANTS LOWER RATES

Hearing To Take Place Before Interstate | Old Man Bill Brown Dies from His Commerce Commission.

Should Be Made WISH DAWSON TO BE MADE A RATING POINT

Important Questions Will Come Up, Which Will Affect Rates in Other Towns in the State.

The city of Dawson will arise to assert tself today. Judge Jim Griggs, now congressman from the second district, will be here to lift his voice. To the interstate commerce commission Dawson makes appeal and will attempt to show that there have existed and do exists glaring discriminations in freight rates.

After asserting this claim the city of Dawson will call for action of a favorable nature and will ask that it can be made a rating point, that the business men can have advantages of lower rates. The fight for cheaper rates has been on for some time and the people and merchants of the plucky little town of the wiregrass region claim that they have a good case. Some time ago there came a huge kick against what they said was the most unjust discrimination. The question was agitated, and it was found that that town paid $25,000 more for the same volume of freight than did Albany or Americus. This set the people to thinking and the advice of Judge Griggs was asked for. Municipal authorities took the question under consideration. For the business men J. W. F. Lowry, W. H. Davis and W. A. McClain were selected to appear before the commission. These, with Judge Griggs, will present the interests of Dawson and Terrell county. It is probable that the hearing will last several days, as there is a mass of testimony to be presented and the question is one which will have strong bearing The hearing will take place at the state capitol in one of the committee rooms.

Lon English is in jail charged with murder. The crime was committed last Monday and English remained at large for three days, then walking to the jail with his brother gave himself up to the authorities. It was thought at the time that his victim would live, but the fractured skull was pressing on the brain, finally causing con cussion. The condition of Mr. Brown was so improved on Saturday that there was talk of carrying English to Woodward and giving him a preliminary hearing. The prosecution requested that it be delayed or account of the condition of Brown, which was done. Instead of assault with intent to murder, English will answer for murder when he is tried. There are two versions of the killing of old man Brown, and they differ in the most important part of the case. English and several of his friends who saw the trouble claim that the son of old man Brown was the direact cause of the fight. For several weeks there has been a fued between the Browns and Thomason, who is a brother-i law to English.

There was terrible commotion for severa minutes and in the excitement Lon Eng-lish took to the woods. New York, August 30 .- The stock marks moved up this morning and down this a ternoon, the weakness being one appar cutly to too heavy profit taking in the Grangers, which had moved up buoyants in the morning. Chicago Great Western suffered most severely from the liquidation and shows a net loss of 14. Omaha showe a certinuance of Saturday's strength an moved up 114 above Saturday's close, but lest it all. Rock Island, alone of the group, closed fractionally higher. The selling movement in the Grangers affected the whole list more or less, and many promi-nent stocks closed below Saturday after having been materially above at or during the day. Some of the recent speculative favorites had achieved so large an advantage that the decline left them something to the good and Wabash preferred, after an advance of a point. There was also some remarkable gains shown in the active list, notably Lake Erie and Western. The common stock of this railway rose 3 points and the preferred 13. Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis preferred also rose 2 points. In the international group, National Starch shares sold a point higher, the first preferred 5 points higher, the second preferred 10 points higher. Leather preferred sold up and then sold down and Sugar fluctuated in an erratic manner over a narrow range. The local gas stocks continued strong on account of the proposed consolidation of interests involved. Lackawanna dropped 3 points on a single transaction, although the coalers as a group, were quite firm. The day's market was almost wholly professional, the news continuing entirely in favor of increase of prices. The Live Stock Market: Chicago, August 30.-Trade in cattle uite animated today in desirable lot slowly and prices were weak lower. Sales were on a bas $3.5025.50 for the common to best, Large numbers of stockers and feeders sold at $3.4024.65, common lots being lower than $3.4024.65, and the sold at easy prices, but helfers were good sellers once more, as were also buils. Calves were lower. Texas cattle were in very good demand at not over strong prices, and western were largely 5020c lower.

In hogs there was a fairly active local and shipping demand, but ouvers insisted on lower prices, and sales were at a decline of 5020c per 160 pounds, good fat hogs weakening the least. The average quality was very bad. Sales were at $3.80 24.45 for the poorest to the hest.

Trade in sheep and lambs was fairly active, and prices showed no Latticular change. Sheep were wanted at $2.202.50 for the poorest up to $3.502.45 for the poorest up to $3.504.45 for good to extra natives, but few sold above $3.70. Lambs sold at $3.502.75, the best ruiling a little higher. Western rangers sheep sold at $3.303.65, a great rumper of feeders going for $3.503.60, hogs 44.69, sheep 18,000.

Heavy Grain Movement. Heavy Grain Movement.

Chicago, August 30.—The grain movement into and out of Chicago the past forty-eight hours is record-breaking. Exactly 5.665 cars of all sorts were received, including 3.585 cars of corn. Shipments aggregate 2.400,000 bushels all kinds of grain, including 119,000 bushels of wheat, 1.666,000 bushels of corp, over 500,000 bushels of oats. Receipts in bushels were: Wheat 175,500, corn 1.244,000, oats 558,000. The remainder was rye and barley.

Coffee and Sugar. New York, August 3.—Coffee, options opened steady 5 points lower, ruled quiet with a weak undertone on continued heavy receipts at Rio and Santos and predicted increase of 600,000 to 700,000 bags in world's increase of 600,000 to 700,000 bags in world's visible supply; weak feeling increased by unsatisfactory European cables; selling checked by fears that market had been oversold; closed dull and unchanged to 10 points decline; sales 16,250 bags, including September at 6.35. A Card to the Public. When we opened in Atlanta we stated that trunks and bags had been sold at double the price at which they should have been sold. Now as to the correctness of this statement we would refer you to the "half price" advertisements of others. These prices no doubt are half the old price and now equal to our regular price. We, therefore, have nothing now to offer except the latest styles and superior goods, including our celebrated Roller Tray Trunks, which are the most convenient, durable and cheapest trunks made. We manufacture all styles of traveling bags and cases as well as trunks. Atlanta, August 30.—Despite the ratner disappointing character of early Liverpool advices the New York market opened with a better feeling apparent. The further strength which developed in the August position at the apparing with en adther strength which developed in the August position at the opening, with an advance of 22 points over Saturday's closing quotation was largely responsible for the firmness throughout the balance of the list with the market less active than during the past week, but a limited volume of outside buying orders continues to be received. The weather is reported rather unfavorable to the crop and the sharp fall in temperature in Minnesota Wieconsin, Illinois and Michgan of from 6 to 28, degrees was not without its effect, owing to the possibility of the cool wave finally extending to the south. In Minnesota the freezing point was reached this morning. There has been a fair demand from the short interest during the morning and Liverpool also sent buying orders. Port receipts continue to run considerably under last year, today's arrivals being extinated Liverpool also sent buying orders. Port receipts continue to run considerably under last year, today's arrivals being estimated at 13,000 bales, against 6,626 hast week and 34,870 hast year. So far as the August squeeze is concerned a further advance is possible before the short interest has been entirely liquidated, owing to the impossibility of obtaining the cotton for delivery on contracts. September at present is selling about 75 bolus under the price of spot in New York. This rather abnormal difference must be adjusted either through an advance in the price of September or a dectine in the market value of spots. The distant positions will be governed to a great extent by the weather conditions of the next few weeks. Meantime the future The distant positions will be governed to a great extent by the weather conditions of the next few weeks. Meantime the future markets are compelled to absorb the offerings which represent bedges against the purchases of actual cotton in the south. Should weather conditions continue favorable prices may therefore ease off somewhat, but possibilities are great should sentiment change regarding crop conditions. New York spots advanced 3-16c, Sales 4,820 bales; middling uplands 84c. Houston expects tomorrow 11,060 to 12,000 bales, against 2,141 last year. The Dry Goods Market.

New York, August 30.—Dry goods opened with a firm tone and a demand both by mall order and in store trading of very fair proportions. The market was filled with buyers at jobbing centers and at first hand buyers. Woolens are firm and active. The situation in woolens is steadily working itself in shape. Stocks have been well taken in preliminary selling, and reorders are beginning to become a factor in the trading. Staple cottons are still firm. Print cloths are still very firm. Futures are re-

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, August 30.—(Special.)—Liver pool called a halt in the decline in cotton prices today. That macket opened 1-6k lower, but recovered this before it closed prices today. That market opened 1-vac lower, but recovered this before it closed. Our market opened from unchanged to 5 points higher. New Orleans bought freely here after the opening and this resulted in a further gain in values. The builteaders assisted the upward movement by buying the near months beavily. The port receipts indicated that cotton is beginning to move more freely, but still were very small when compared with last year. In the afterneon an estimate of heavy receipts at Houston tomorrow raused a scamper to sell and prices ran down to below the close of Saturday. Again New Orleans came to the rescue with good buying orders and stopped the decline. January opened at 6.85, advanced to 6.89, declined to 6.89 and closed at 6.80 to 6.81 with the tone of the market quiet and steady. With continued favorable weather in the south we fear prices will decline still further.

New York, August 30.-By Associated Press: Liverpool cables, at hand when the market opened today, were disappointing, crop accounts had a bearish average, remarket opened today, were disappointing, crop accounts had a bearish average, receipts were heavy, outside buying orders were few, and Iceal sentiment had a bearish temper, yet the market opened at an advance of 22 points on August. I point on September and October, and 2@5 points on the remainder of the list. Dominated by manipulation in August, with apprehensions that the deal would extend to September and October, caused more or less hesitation. Following the open call the market readjusted itself to a net advance of 5@6 points before noon with the exception of August, which at that hour showed a net advance of 20 points and held the general list. Later in the session the market had an easter undertone on estimates of heavy receipts for tomorrow, especially at Interior points. At the best points the general list showed a net advance of 3@7 points, with the market finally quiet and steady in tone at a net advance of 2@5 points on the general list, while the net advance of August was 22 points.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter. Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, August 39.—Liverpool seems disposed to buy more cotton at about present prices. The receipts appear light to the foreigners. They are afraid of a September squeeze in Liverpool. The trade feels this market to be oversold with the stock in the hands of the August pool. Scattering shorts have covered in August today. The stock has all passed into the hands of the bull party. Cotton as yet is not on a delivery basis from the south. The short interest today decreased. Wall street has sold a small quantity of her recent purchases. There have been some complaints from the south and sections of Texas need rain. Worms are reported in the Mississippi valley. Receipts as compared with any other season are light, but as compared with any other season are heavy, A change of some description is needed in present prospects to attract speculation. Business in England and on the continent is reported poor. The local interests fear possible manipulation in September. The market closed easy on the large receipts at Augusta and Houston. Traders, however, expect a reaction tomorrow on the bureau report, which is expected to show a decreased condition in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

Southern Exchange Cotton Letter.

Atlanta, August 20.—With a better Liverpool market than expected, we opened at an advance of 4 to 5 points and continued upward to 6.80 for October and December. At this point the demand seemed satisfied and soon after the estimated receipts at Houston, 20,000, were posted, causing early buyers to become sellers, and the market broke quickly to about yesterday's closing prices and closed at a gain of 2 points on the day. Outside of the Houston receipts the market was featureless. Unless Liverpool adds to the improvement of today, we look for lower prices tomorrow. Southern Exchange Cotton Letter.

The Liverpool and Port Markets. Liverpool, August 30-12:15 p. m.—Cotton, spot imited inquiry with prious lower; middling uplands 55; sales 6.000 bales; American 5.300; speculation and export 500; receipts mone; American none. Futures opened easy with demand fair.

Breaks Previous Records-September Wheat Was Weak on Traders Changing to December.

Chicago, August 30 .- Corn was the leadenicago, August 30.—Corn was the lead-ing market on change today. It closed at ½c advance, something remarkable in view of the enormous receipts. September wheat was radically weak on the almost total was radically weak of the almost characteristics abandonment of their lines of that option by the heaviest holders and the taking up of December. September wheat closed 3½c lower. Oats and proyisions were both bennited corn, oats advancing %c and provisions E@121/2c.

visions I@12½c.

Wheat started rather weak. Liverpool opened with a decline of ¾d and had made a further drop of ¾d, or 1½d in all, before business of the day commenced here. Paris was reported as showing the equivalent of was reported as showing the equivalent of 1/4c per bushel advance at the opening, but the Liverpool decline received the greater consideration and caused December wheat to open here at a decline of 1/401/4c per bushel. The decline favored those who were already short and was seized upon as a good opportunity to scepre a quick as a sgood opportunity to secure a quick profit. Some bulls also, who had sold out the week before, took on new lines, out the week before, took on new lines, and the result was a gradual improvement. December started at $3%.089c, or 1014c below Saturday's close and advanced to $3%c, when a heavy decrease in the visible was announced. This caused the renewed buying, the price reaching 30%c for a moment. Following that came the closing cables, which showed material declines at the control of the the chief foreign markets. This created a revulsion of feeling and by 11:30 o'clock the price was back to 89½c. The decline for the day at Liverpool was from 1½ to 2½d proceeding laws of the day at Liverpool was from 1½ to 2½d proceeding laws of the laws of per cental, Paris & francs, or & a bushel for August, but an advance equivalent to 3\(\frac{1}{2}\)c a bushel for November-February. to 3½c a bushel for November-February.

Antwerp declined 62½ centimes, or 3½c a bushel. These declines put a quietus on the rather alarming statements of crop damage put forth by various foreign audamage put forth by various foreign authorities, notably the darrian minister of agriculture, Chicago receipts were 545 cars. At Minucapolis and Duluth 524 car loads were received, compared with $39 on the corresponding day of 1898. The clear the coresponding day of 1896. The clear-ances of wheat and flour from Atlantic ports since Saturday, inclusive of those from New Orleans and Newport News, amounted to the unusually heavy quantity of 1.650,000 bushels, of which 856,000 bush-els were in the shape of wheat. The visible decreased 1.256,000 bushels and the total is now reduced to 15,473,000 bushels, against 45,574,000 bushels a year ago. The world's shipments to Europe last week aggregated 7.453,000 bushels. The English visible creased 1,186,000 bushels and the amount of ocean passage increased 1,580,000 bushels. One pronounced feature of the market was the almost complete abandonment of was the atmost complete abandonment of September wheat by the parties who held by far the largest line of it. The dumping of September for December commenced at the opening and within an hour the 2½c the opening and within an hour the 21/2c difference which existed between the two options Saturday had disappeared and the eagerness with which exchange was made even at even figures provided an additional source of weakness and ultimately put the source of weakness and ultimately put the price of September below December ngures. The market ruled dull during the closing hour with December hovering around 89½. The closing prices were 89% for December and 89c for September.

Corn was a very active market. With the exception of a slight feeling of nervousness at the opening the market was astonishingly strong considering the receipts? 3.855 cars, the largest on record.

were numerous. The visible supply increased 5,917,000 bushels. Clearances were 404,000 bushels. December opened 14@14c lower at 31@311/2c. It advanced to 321/4c and closed at 32%c.
The bulk of the business in oats was in the way of exchanging. The fluctuations were ruled almost entirely by corn and the tendency therefore was generally upward. Receipts were large at 791 cars The visible supply increased 1,245,000 bushels. December opened unchanged at 19%c, advanced to 20%c and closed at 20%c asked. Provisions started weak on the break in yard prices and liberal hog receipts. The yard prices and liberal hog receipts. The opening decline, however, was slight and a sharp advance soon took place, which was undoubtedly caused by the strength of corn. A feature was the buying of September pork and lard by the Cudains and selling of October and December by the same people. Closing prices were close to the best of the day. At the close Decembr pork was 12½c higher at $9.02½, December lard & higher at $4.95 and December ribs 75%c higher at $5.03 bee lard 5: higher at $4.95 and December ribs 7½c higher at $5.70. any day last week. Co a whole, the statistical news has beep in favor of holders and has been the sustaining feature of the buying below $9 cents large enough to take such of the offerings, closing the market rather firm.

Notwithstanding the very beavy receipts of corn-3,585 cars—this cercal advanced a cent per bushel from the oponing price, the buying being made by elevator concerns, who claim that offerings are on such a largely reduced scale from last week as suggests a scare among farmers on crop prospects, and it is presumed these light offerings will result in light receipts the latter part of the week. Shipments were large—1,66,000 bushels.

Provisions have been firm. Packers were large buyers of September products.

FOREIGN CROP SITUATION.

Unfavorable Weather Has Seriously

Delayed the Harvest. Delayed the Harvest.

London, August 30.—The Mark Lane Express, reviewing the crop situation, says the weather has seriously delayed the harvest and that the new wheat is bound to suffer. Contouing, the paper asserts that advices show the Russian crop to be decidedly below the average, while the American crop is probably above the average. In this connection The Mark Lane Express says that information regarding the American crop appears to be kept back, and adds that the experience of recent years leads to the advices of the American crop being placed in a lower grade of authority than those from Europe and other countries.

Snow's Crop Report.

Snow's Crop Report.

Chicago, August 30.—Snow, in his crop summary says: "Last week was more unfavorable for corn than either of the three succeeding weeks. The cold weather has been supplanted by warmer, but the crop is now suffering from drought. The best showing for corn supplies—crop and reserves—is for 500,000,000 bushels less than last year.

"No particular change is to be noted in the spring wheat condition so far as the the spring wheat condition so far as the crop is concerned. The weather is no longer an important factor, though wheat is somewhat late in the Red river."

Hungarian Crop Estimate. Hungarian Crop Estimate.

Chicago, August 30.—The Hungarian ministery of agriculture, in its annual estimate of world's harvest describes it as extraordinarily light. The deficits are estimated as follows: Rye 69,900,000 hectoliters, barley 38,000,000, oats 55,000,000, corn 59,000,000. The reports state that many exporting countries, such as Europe, Turkey, Egypt, Australia and Hungary, will either be unable to export grain or will be compelled to import, while others, including British India, Argentina and Chile, will have their wheat export considerably reduced. The favored countries are the United States and Canada.

Mr. S. B. Turman, who represented several parties in the railroad who were opposed to the receivership, is delighted at the turn matters have taken, and he believes the road will be made a good earning property with the expenditure of but a small amount.

The litigation over the property was caused by a bil filed by Mr. Leary through his counsel, Mr. Burton Smith, which was to secure protection for the road's indebtedness of $10,000. This $10,000 was loaned by Mr. Leary to Mr. Livermore. Mr. Livermore loaned the company $30,000, which was used in building the road and buying the rails. Ten thousand dollars of the amount loaned by Mr. Livermore for the entire $30,000, who, in turn, assigned the mortgage to Mr. Leary to secure the $10,000 loan. The remaining interest in the mortgage over and above this $10,000 was assigned by Mr. Livermore to the Sank of Cal-investigate certain charges which are alleged to have been made by Mrs. W. R.

Jester, against Miss Emmle Dimon, the daughter of Pastor S. H. Dimon, will soon make its report to the church.

It was stated last night that charges have been preferred against Mrs. Jester and that the church will make an investigation of the entire matter. The members of this committee who were seen y-sterday declined to discuss the matter at all, saying that each member had made an agreement that nothing would be said about the inves-tigation, which has been in progress several Receiver Kendrick Is Dismissed by General Consent Order.

Miss Fitzgerald, of Savannah, is visiting friends at 29 and 31 Houston street.

AFFAIRS EASILY ADJUSTED

Mr. J. F. Leary Is Satisfied with the Arrangements Made.

NO FURTHER LITIGATION IS ANTICIPATED

Improvements and Needed Repairs Will Be Made and the Property Put in Good Condition.

The affairs of the Atlanta Electric Railway Company having been satisfactorily adjusted, a consent order was taken yeserday before Judge Lumpkin dismissing Major W. J. Kendrick, who was appointed receiver of the assets of the company about three weeks ago.

The consent order is the result of an agreement reached between all parties interested and the affairs of the road will be conducted as heretofore. The appli-cation upon which the receiver was grant-ed was filed in the superior court by Mr. J. F. Leary, who was a creditor of the company in the sum of $10,000. At the time the bill was filed Mr. Leary stated that he had no desire to force a sale of the assets, as he was taking the steps by Colored Free Masons.

Two Strong Organizations Claim Priority and Right to a Name.

MAKE BOLD AND STRONG CONTENTION

Convention Now in Session Will Grapple with the Question and Wrench It Hard.

The Free and Accepted Ancient York Rite Masons, colored, of the United States of North America held the first session of their fifth annual communication in Odd Fellows' hall on Piedmont avenue yesteray morning. This convention has stirred up much dis-

This convention has stirred up much discussion among the negro Masons of the city, as there are two branches here, and each claims to be the only legitimate colored Masons in the United States.

Both sides say they can prove their assertions, and if it comes to the point of doing so, they will. The State Rite Masons, as they are called by the York Rite Masons, as they are called down with contempt upon assume to look down with contempt upon the York Rites and will not consider them as Masons at all.

The York Rites say they will not condeleserve their notice. The feeling between the two is one of contempt, and it is thought before the present convention adroof, and it will be known which is the eal and lawful order.

The most interesting part of the convenon now holding will be the address of the most worshipful grand master of All Legit-imate Free and Accepted Ancient Colored Masonry in the United States of North

He will speak on "The Origin of Negro Masonry in the United States of North America." In this address he will show his records and he says that he will prove beyond any doubt that their branch is the only legitlmate in this country. Much interest is centered in this part of the programme and it is said that he will make it. ramme, and it is said that he will make it ively for the others and give them much ood for reflection. There are many delegates here from dif-ferent parts of the state, as it is a conven-tion of the Smooth Ashler lodge of the state

100, and they are being entertained by the ocal brothers. There are two lodges of this branch in Atlanta, with a membership

The meetings are secret, and only members of the order are admitted to the hall. They hold their sessions from 9 o'clock to 12, and from 2 to 5. All the grand officers of the state and many from other places are in attendance. Reports from all over the country are being heard, and local committees have been appointed to arrange others matters.

Captain W. D. Matthews, the most worshipful grandmaster, is said to be the oldest ored Mason in the United States. He was born in 1822, and will soon enter into his seventy-fifth year. He was born in Maryland, and says that he was born a free negro. He talks interestingly of his early life and tells many times of the way

Masonry prevented him and others from being sold into slavery.

He says that he was a captain in the federal troops and fought many a battle at the head of 150 men under General Grant. He says he is proud of the negroes, and has reason to be. He is now living in Leavenworth Kan. enworth, Kan.

He says he has called on and been received by every president of the United States since the time of Lincoln. He says further that the object of negro Masonry is to elevate them and make them more useful men. He will prove beyond a doubt

For Nervous Headache

Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate. Dr. F. A. Roberts, Waterville, Me., says:

WEDDING WAS TOO EXPENSIVE.

Robert Martin Refused To Pay Judge Orr for Performing Ceremony.

When Robert H. Martin kissed his bride in Judge Orr's court yesterday immedi-ately after the ceremony had been per-formed, he refused to pay the accommodating justice the usual marriage fee.

Judge Orr then declined to sign the marriage certificate which the groom wished to preserve as a happy memento of the occasion.

While there is no statute in the code which compels the groom to pay the officer or minister who performs the marrlage ceremony, it is quite unusual that a small fee is refused in consideration of the service performed. Martin thought differently and he took the position that the marriage license was as much as the wedding should cost.

Martin had secured a marriage certificate with the name of himself and bride handsomely engraved on the tinted paper. He said he wished the certificate signed so that he could frame it and hang it in his new home. Judge Orr thought the eremony was worth a small fee and he told Martin so.

I don't think it's worth any money," Martin replied. "I paid for the license and that is all I will pay for."
Martin's certificate was unsigned when he left the office of the magistrate.

HIRSCH DEMANDS AN INVESTIGATION

Momentous Problem Now To Be Settled The Grady Hospital Trustees Will Act This Afternoon.

THEY ARE IN SESSION HERE HAS CAMP GIVEN UP FIGHT?

Some Say He Is on the Still Hunt for Evidence.

THE TRUSTEES WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH

Realize an Investigation Only Will Clear the Institution-Will Call on Council To Act.

It now looks as if there will be an official investigation of the Grady hospital.

Councilman Milton P. Camp, of the first ward, started the ball to rolling when he thought the ambulance surgeon should have admitted a morphine flend to the institution and the sphere has been rolling nave admitted a morphine fiend to the institution, and the sphere has been rolling threateningly toward this haven for the maimed and sick ever since. Strange to say, however, Mr. Camp has seemingly dropped his prosecution for the last few days. Whether he wishes to rules the siege is speculative. He seems dissiege is speculative. He seems dis-gruntled and has little to say.

The hospital authorities have taken up the matter where Mr. Camp left off and will now demand that the investigation be held at once.

The board of trustees meet this afternoon at the hospital. Chairman Hirsch will introduce a resolution himself demanding that council appoint a committee of five members to investigate the institu-tion from top to bottom and ascertain if there is any rottenness there as some have claimed. The councilman sent the first challenge The insinuations that have been made against that institution in the last few weeks and the natural impress that has been made on the public mind thereby have cast a shade over the hospital from which it cannot escape without a public and thorough investigation.

The hospital trustees realize this fact and they are determined that this course shall be pursued. A committee will in all probability be appointed this afternoon to be present at the next meeting of the city fathers and request that immediate steps be taken by that body toward the investi-Mr. Hirsch Says Come and See.

Chairman Hirsch, of the hospital trus-tees, is willing and anxious for the investigation to proceed. He realizes the situa-tion in the institution over which he has presided so efficiently for a long time, and he is determined to satisfy the public once and for all that the Grady hospital is one of the best managed institutions in the

"What we want is an investigation, said he yesterday afternoon. "After what has happened now we demand it. We do not intend to have the charges of dishonnot fitted to have the charges of disnon-esty and neglect of duty thrust into our faces by a few people who are ignorant of the workings of the institution and who are jealous because they were not included on the medical staff. We want the public to closely follow this investigation and see for themselves how it comes out. We have no fears whatever, for we know what the result will be. And when it is innished we sincerely trust the public will unite in trying to build the institution up instead or puning it down."

Aic. Camp will not say whether he is conceting evidence against the institution or not. He implies as much, nowever, when he announces he will not be ready to epring As resolution of investigation on council at the next regular meeting. The iospital people are not arraid, nowever, of

Was That Rule Violated?

The rules of the hospital distinctly say incurable and caronic cases will not be taken as a general rule, and will be taken only when there are empty beds and when a distinct understanding is had with the space is needed.

It will probably be urged by the prosecution that this rule was violated when Dr. Sciekier refused to admit the morphine patient last Sunday a week ago. It will be acklowedged his case was probably incurable, but that there were vacant beds in the hospital and that he might have been cared for until he was crowded out. Dr. Sweickler and the hospital authorities insist, however, he was obeying the spirit of the rule.
